DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Broussalian in view of Jones.

The Broussalian reference discloses a valve (Figure 7) comprising a casing (34 and 43) with a flow path circle.outlet 74, and a rotatable hollow pipe 44 with a hook 54, exterior threads (proximate reference numeral 9 in Figure 7), an opening 57, and three grooves with O-rings (63, 65, 66), but does not disclose a coupler with interior threads on the wall of the casing. However, the Jones reference discloses a similar valve including a coupler 74 with interior threads 76 on the exterior wall of the casing at the outlet for convenient attachability of an appropriate nozzle. It would have been obvious to employ a coupler with interior threads on the exterior wall of the casing at the outlet of the Broussalian valve in view of Jones for convenient attachability of an appropriate nozzle. Regarding claims 5 and 6, a 90 degree angle between the casing and the pipe is formed proximate reference numeral 71 in Figure 7. Regarding the functional language of claim 4, the exterior threads are capable of having other devices (such as a nozzle) screwed to it. Regarding the functional language of claim 8, the O-rings are replaceable by a flange as claimed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Jacobs, Lord, Reinecke, Conrad, Carlton, and deCler references disclose similar valves.
